Profile

I'm a Creative 23 year old, former Animation Student. After working for Six Months at ORCA Websites in Leeds, my girlfriend and I moved down to London for a change of pace and career. I'm West London born but I am currently living in South East London and thoroughly loving it.

In my free time, I freelance as a Web Designer as well as offering brand services. I also regularly work as a Web Design Tutor for Rollingsound, offering advice and mentoring to young people who are often out of education.
